

ART EDUCATION

Carthage's studio art courses provide a foundation in traditional media while preparing students to explore new media and personal vision. Students master fundamental concepts of design, materials, and tools of the fine arts, and acquire languages of visual communication as they work in two and three dimensions.

Carthage offers a major in art with K-12 public school licensure that provides the necessary preparation leading to a Wisconsin state license in Art Education. This major develops the skills students need to be practicing studio artists as well as effective teachers.
